

The Endeavour Academy Privacy Policy

At Endeavour Academy we wish for you to enjoy your visit to our website and understand and respect the need for privacy of your information. For your reassurance, the site makes every commitment to comply with GDPR (General Data Protection Regulation).

This privacy notice is issued by Endeavour Academy. It is to inform applicants how their personal information will be used by the School. Your personal information is used by Endeavour Academy to exercise its legal functions and meet its statutory responsibilities to provide education. Your information will be securely stored and securely destroyed after it is no longer required for these purposes, as detailed in the ICO GDPR document controller template. Your consent is required to capture, retain and process some of your personal data and you have the opportunity to opt-in to give consent.

This website is run by Endeavour Academy and these guidelines are in relation to your data protection and relate solely to information provided by you via this website. Information you have supplied to us will only be used for the purposes for which you have provided it. In compliance with the Data Protection Act, your information will only be held for as long as necessary for these purposes. Information may also be used to assess and analyse our services to you or to compile statistical reviews of the pages you have visited on our website. Again, all information will only be held for as long as necessary to fulfil these purposes.

We may from time to time send you information which we feel may be of interest to you. In many cases, this will be in reference to the course / subject area in which you have expressed an interest. We promise not to inundate you with marketing messages. We'll always treat your personal data with the upmost care and will never sell or give them to other organisations for marketing purposes.

At the point of data collection we will give you the option to opt-in and tell us all the ways you'd be happy to hear from us, EG: By Post, Text, Telephone and Email.

Should you wish to change your communication preferences or have your data removed, please inform the School in writing by email:

Sharing Information

We will not share your information for marketing purposes with other companies or organisations.

Data Security Statement

The School strives to take all reasonable steps to protect the data you disclose to us online but cannot guarantee its security fully. Visitors to the site who submit information must do so in compliance with accepting the security risks, and will not hold the School responsible for any breach of security.

Third Party Links

To provide a better service to you as a visitor to our site, where it is relevant, we will provide links to other websites which you may find useful or interesting. Responsibility for the information you provide to other such third party sites is with that site itself and not with the School.

These conditions are subject to change.
